LAST NIGHT'S NEWS.

TILDEN'S PREFERENCE FOR THE SECRETARYSHIP.

Yellow Fever on the Lackawanna—Young Girl Killed by a Train—Chicago Socialists.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

DOMESTIC.

Tilden's Preference for a Cabinet Officer.

WASHINGTON, February 8th.—The Sunday Herald today published an interview with an unnamed member of Congress, who said to enjoy an exceptional degree of Tilden's confidence. According to this representative, Tilden recently said to him: "I will tell you to I should like to represent New York in Cleveland's personal cabinet, and it is General Francis C. Barlow."

Barlow was a Republican in good standing in 1876. So trusted was he that his party friends had him sent to Florida, to fight the presidential election. When Barlow got there, he found such a condition of things that he was obliged to return to the Republican party. His record in the Senate was Democratic. For this act no man was ever so abused as was Barlow. He quit the Republican party and organized the National Civil Service League, of which George William Curtis is the President, in New York.

This Association, or Civil Service League, elected Governor Cleveland, I have informed Cleveland that of all others I would prefer General Francis Barlow as Secretary of War. First, because he is a brilliant young soldier, and won his double stars by the most gallant courage, as General Hancock, the worst has been told. Second, there would be no better representative of the American volunteer soldier than a Major-General's commission, every step traced by the track of blood, third, because he had the courage of his convictions, and when he was in the party he had gloried in and fought for was leading, he stopped and turned back. Then he was a soldier, and he is a soldier, he is well set up officer, who never knew what fear was, and as a soldier without fear and without reproach. These are my reasons for endorsing so highly General C. Barlow.
